We have now concluded a wonderful 2022 WBC International boxing season and it is time to summarize what we have managed to achieve. Some title bouts, regularly dated and sanctioned, were cancelled at the last moment for various reasons, above all of economic nature or due to injuries.

We counted at least eight title bouts called suddenly off. Perhaps the most striking was the one in Dubai dated December 17th where the vacant lightflyweight championship should have taken place. Many sources have reported it was a sort of fraud against the involved fighters. The Committee has not obtained sufficient elements to prove that thesis.

Another championship we were very happy to see taking place was the one we had approved for the vacant Middleweight Silver title in Zanzibar, Tanzania. That was supposed to happen at the end of the year, but the promoters eventually cancel the full event due to unspecified economic reasons.

In any case, forty-six championships promoted in 2022 in every part of the world. A real success, both from a spectacular point of view and statistically speaking.

We are now preparing to face the new season with the usual seriousness, having already planned some championships for the beginning of 2023.

To all ... my best wishes for happiness.
